ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF PROGRAM GUIDELINES

In hope of ensuring a good fit to our various programs, here are a few things that need to be considered prior to submitting this referral. Please read through the following with your client to ensure that they are aware of the basic conditions that they will have to meet in any of the programs supported by this referral package.

1. A lot of our program components are group based. Are you willing and able to engage with group work?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
2. Our programs strive to create a safe space for all participants; as such, there is an expectation you will abide by the rules and guidelines of the program you are accepted into. Can you meet that expectation?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
3. Showing respect for all participants includes avoiding using aggressive language when expressing your feelings; and avoiding language that puts down another person's race, gender, sexuality, culture etc. Can you respect that?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No
4. For Live-in Programs: Living in community can be difficult. Can you live in the same space as others for an extended period of time? (referral agents: explore potential issues the client might face)	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No

Given the above, are there any identified strategies your client is aware of that can help them navigate situations when they become frustrated or triggered?

Vancouver Coastal Health Youth Day Treatment Program

The Day Treatment Program services youth ages 16-24 who are looking to make goals around their substance use. All admissions to the Day Treatment Program are voluntary, meaning that they should want to come to the program and be interested in working within a group setting. Using a holistic and trauma informed lens, youth will have the chance to gain a deeper understanding of their relationship with substance use while gaining helpful tools to overcome challenges and meet their goals.

The Day Treatment Program runs three days a week and is a mix of in person and Zoom learning. The program is 15 weeks and is broken up into five, three-week modules. Youth will be intaken on a rolling basis and can start at the beginning of each new module. The program is staffed by a VCH Concurrent Youth Counselor (Alex Brown) and a Social Worker (Del Carr) who do therapeutic and psychoeducational groups, 1-1 sessions as well as assessments and referrals.

Day Treatment Weekly Schedule:

Day	Time	Group Type
Wednesday	2:00-3:30	Therapeutic group held in person (Robert Lily Lee- 1669 E Broadway)
Thursday	2:00-3:00	Psychoeducation Group held over zoom (online)
Friday	2:00-3:30	In Person Group (Robert Lily Lee- 1669 E Broadway) These groups are often done in the community, connecting with nature, doing recreation or participating in expressive art therapy.

Who is our program for?

Peak House is a voluntary, ten-week, live-in, treatment program for youth 13-18 years, experiencing problems with drugs, including alcohol. We accept youth from across the province. We do not offer detox services; we ask that clients abstain from substance use for a minimum of seven days prior to entering the program.

Our program is a suitable treatment option for youth with the willingness to get back on track with their lives, but whose challenges overextend the resources of their family and local treatment professionals.

Program Description

Our program is located in a large home in Vancouver. We have 6 single bedrooms and one double shared room. People tell us that Peak House feels like a home, warm and inviting. There is a large backyard, an amazing chef, and puppies visit us (when no one has allergies). The first two weeks of the program has been designed to provide a less intensive environment where youth and staff can assess readiness to participate fully in the highly structured, intensive, remaining eight-week treatment and aftercare phase.

With a strong emphasis on inclusivity and belonging, Peak House is committed to an anti-oppressive, welcoming and safe environment for youth. We are accountable to clients, and with one another, for inclusive practices regarding gender/gender expression, race, sexuality, culture, abilities or social class. We operate within the harm reduction spectrum with a trauma informed, client centered, and social justice framework.

There are no cell phones or social media access while at Peak House. This is an opportunity to reconnect with self and take time without technology distraction to build the life you deserve.

Program Components

Peak House has a series of groups and activities intentionally designed to support youth in finding new ways of being, reconnecting to, or finding new interests and points of connection with others, and working to address the factors that contribute to problematic substance use.

We provide individual, group and family counselling, a school program, recreation, art, holistic health and wellness approaches, time in nature, life skills education, family support and community engagement. Our program is designed to support youth in successful and meaningful reengagement with self, their home communities, and the people who care for them.

Some of these groups and programs include:

- Individual and group counselling
 - Nature exploration
 - Fitness exploration
 - Art and music
 - Community outings
 - Guest speakers
 - Nurse practitioner
- Elder visits to do Indigenous connection
 - PADS (therapeutic dog) visits
 - Holistic wellness practices and education
 - Life-skills
 - Relapse prevention
 - Aftercare planning
 - Academic and arts-based education Our school program is run by a full-time resource teacher employed by the Vancouver Board of Education; the youth attend school four mornings a week for two hours.

What is Young Bears Lodge?

YBL is a Tier 4, Indigenous-specific, culturally based youth residential addictions treatment program with a 5 bed capacity. This culturally-based program is designed for Indigenous youth aged 13 – 18 years, and offers a continuous intake. YBL provides time-limited treatment in a structured substance-free, live-in environment that blends cultural, therapeutic groups and individual programs to support youth to address their relationship with substances through a harm-reduction and trauma-informed service model. Over the course up to 20 weeks (5 months) residential programming is offered in four cycles which are based on cultural teachings, ceremonies and protocols. In-between those 5 month cycles of residential care we are now introducing a month long transitional day program that will assist youth with their entrance and/or exit to Young Bears lodge. The day program will always run during the months of June and December and will be delivered at our UNYA head office location - 1618 East Hastings, Vancouver. During the months of June and December, when day programming is in session, there is no residential treatment being offered.

Treatment and Healing:

The YBL program is a healing lodge for Indigenous youth who experience problematic substance use and/or addiction. We provide a supportive, accepting, respectful environment—that fuses cultural, clinical knowledge and healing practices—in order to foster the emotional, mental, physical and spiritual wellbeing of our program participants. Although we work in a harm reduction frame work at Young Bears Lodge, youth need to be able to abstain from using drugs and alcohol while participating in our live-in residential program.

Individual Care Plans:

At Young Bears Lodge we create individualized care plans with our youth that create space for them to be the experts in their wellness during their time at the Lodge. These strength based care plans change throughout programming and the youth is always the one who is creating their definition of “success.” Because we work within a harm reduction model, as opposed to enforcing a structure aimed towards abstinence, we support youth to observe & change their relationship to drugs & alcohol.

What's included in our Residential Programming:

- Fully supervised 24/7 staffing including: a Clinical Counsellor & Cultural Counsellor on site
- Access to Primary Health care services at UNYA's Native Youth Health & Wellness Centre including: Nurse Practitioner, Elder, 1 to 1 counsellor, Mid wives, and Psychiatry supports
- Access to YBL phone, weekly computer time at library, hygiene products, laundry, on-site gym facilities, & designated smoking area
- Planned visits & day or weekend passes
- Meals and snacks available at all times & the ability to accommodate any dietary needs
- Support for youth on ORT's after stabilization
- 5 private bedrooms located in a large residential home in Vancouver, with access to large backyard

What's included in our Day Program:

- A cultural & clinical day program offered at our UNYA head office
- Mix of cultural outings, ceremonies & teaching with clinical workshops on site
- Lunch, snacks & bus tickets

This is a wonderful opportunity to offer a small sample of what type of support is available through Young Bears Lodge without youth having to commit to a live in treatment program, or to continue their support after completing their stay at YBL. The day program will be an opportunity for youth to participate in therapeutic cultural and clinical day programming that will help youth address their substance use. Many youth may not be ready or willing to leave their homes to seek help. A Day Program such as this will give those youth who are interested a chance to build relationships and engage with the YBL staff without leaving their family support systems. The day program will run Monday through Friday from 11am-4:30pm and will be operated and run by YBL staff at head office.

Core Values:

UNYA and YBL practice the following core values within programming at YBL. We believe:

- Youth have the right to be heard and involved in decisions that affect their lives.
- Youth have the right to be loved and accepted unconditionally.
- Youth have the right to privacy and confidentiality regarding their lives (with exception of instances in which they may cause harm to themselves, or others)
- Every individual has the right to their own religious, cultural, and /or family beliefs.
- A youth's family beliefs and traditions are to be respected and upheld.
- Youth have a right to their individuality; therefore, we will not compare them to others.
- Youth have a right to belong to a community where they are valued and supported.
- All youth have skills, knowledge, and strengths and are capable of making meaningful contributions to their friends, families and communities and influence their world.
- Any words that can be construed as negative, derogatory or demeaning to youth should not be used in written or verbal forms regardless of the professional community's stated perception of them.
- In distinguishing between the individual and their behaviours, which will be expressed in all written and verbal communication.
- Youth have a right to be free from all forms of abuse and violence.

Foundations Program

Support and Recovery Program

Website: <https://www.covenanthousebc.org/> Call: (604) 801-0042

What is the Foundations Program?

The Foundation Program at Covenant House Vancouver (CHV) is a residential support and recovery program where staff serve youth (16-24) in a safe, and non-judgmental environment. Youth are supported to address every aspect of wellbeing as they define it for themselves. Youth identify and meet individual goals in relation to safer substance use. Support is intended to decrease risk and increase knowledge and awareness of safer substance use practices. The CHV continuum of care connects with youth where they are at because "one size fits one" when supporting young people. Cultural considerations for Indigenous youth are central to the "one size fits one" approach which emphasizes the cultural strength of Indigenous communities.

Foundations Program Philosophy

The Foundations program delivers support for youth experiencing substance use through an Attachment-Based, Trauma-Informed, and Stages of Change Model of care. Wrap-around support is provided by the in-house care team in tandem with outside support. Supports may include safe use information, access to safe supply, harm reduction supplies, risk reduction, mental health support, groups, and/or support to maintain sobriety.

For young people support may include goals beyond those directly related to substance use. The Foundation program supports youth's self-identified goals which may include improving family and social relationships alongside mental health and physical health. In applying the Resiliency Model of Harm Reduction in a residential setting, youth workers build transformative relationships with youth and reduce the risks of street homelessness and substance use.

One of the core principles of this program is that youth have the autonomy to define their personal goals regarding their substance use along a continuum ranging from safer continued use with supports and supplies to sobriety if they so choose. With this in mind, the youth does not need to commit to refraining from use while in program.

What is included in the Foundations Program?

- Individual Support
 - Care Team: Youth Workers, Team Leaders, Social Worker, Clinical Counsellor
 - Attachment-based wrap-around support available 24/7
 - The social worker provides case management support including, but not limited to referrals, assessments, and care coordination. The social worker helps to connect youth to longer-term services including ongoing community supports and refers youth to targeted supports including treatment programs.
 - The clinical counsellor offers counselling through the modalities of brief solutions-focused crisis counselling, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, addictions counselling, and family counselling.
- Programming
 - Group Programming: SMART Recovery, Hearing Voices, Life Skills (budgeting, Rent Smart, Nutrition), Harm Reduction (Substance use and Health related groups), Spiritual Care, Physical Wellness, Psychoeducation (Impact of Trauma and Healthy Relationships), and Art Therapy.
 - Weekend recreation and self-care programming
- Residential Support
 - Personal bedroom with ensuite
 - The common space with a television, couches, computers, and a small kitchenette
 - Wi-fi is available for youth throughout the building.
 - Recreation spaces: basketball court, a gym, an education room, dining room and patio, a wellness room, and an art room
 - Three meals a day (breakfast, lunch, and dinner) with food being made available at all times of the day
 - Hygiene, safe sex, and harm reduction supplies
 - Accessibility accommodations: elevators and a fully accessible room
- Health Care: The Foundations Program enrolls all youth in Health Care management whereby Foundry Vancouver-Granville is the designated prescriber managing medication and overseeing the health needs.

Community Support

- Partnership and Wrap-Around Support: The Foundations Program is supported through an active partnership with Vancouver Coastal Health whereby the management of intakes, screening, discharges, and case reviews is a shared responsibility. Youth are encouraged to continue to engage with community supports while in the Foundations Program.
